

Katie Moncrief points the start for a family's day of canoeing on the beautiful Wekiva river.

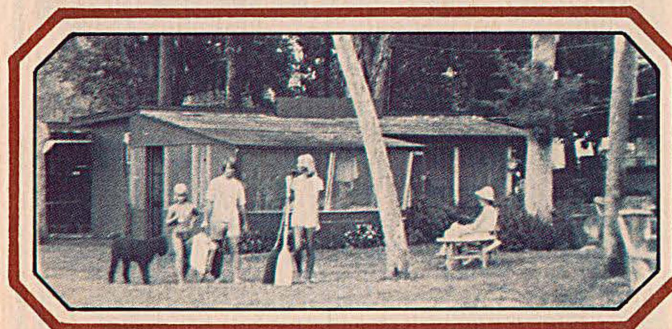

One of Central Florida's best known and enthusiastic canoeists, Katie began her canoeing at the age of 3 on Lake Angle in Seattle, Washington where she lived. Sixteen years ago, after obtaining a degree in Fine Arts from Cornish Allied Arts, she migrated to Central Florida, continued her canoeing and raised three daughters. In 1974 she and her husband Russ, a college administrator purchased the Landing. She paddled 100 miles of the now famous Bartram Bicentennial Canoe Expedition in 1976 which covered 1,200 miles from Georgia to Miami. Katie is a section leader for the Florida Trail, Inc. and a member of the American Canoe Association.

The Wekiva River, which rises from the boil of Wekiva Springs near Orlando has been estimated by archeologists to be 25 million years old. The Wekiva boil produces forty-eight million gallons of clear fresh water each day and provides the river with a steady but moderate current as it flows north for 16 miles where it joins the St. Johns River in Seminole County. The Wekiva varies in width from 20 to 250 feet and is considered tranquil. A stretch of the Wekiva which begins just south of the Landing and continues north for 6 miles to the St. Johns has been designated "Scenic and Wild." The Wekiva is a part of the Florida Canoe Trail.
